KEY ACTIVITIES

- Identify Business Use Case and Expectations – To start first zero down on the specific use case and expected goal to be achieved
- Set Performance Goals – set benchmarks, goals for KPIs and corresponding metrics to determine the success of the pilot
- Define the Scope and Set Boundaries – Generally, it is advisable to limit the pilot scope to a minimum number of sources or a limited set of views pertaining to a business objective that can characterize the complexity of the end target
- Build the Pilot – Establish source connections, build base and derived views, enable required level of cache, publish services, benchmark performance
- Performance Metrics – Post completion, record the performance metrics
- Documentation – Document the learnings and observations to be leveraged during the implementation phase
